CHURCH QUARREL USHERS IN SCOPES TRIAL TODAY

Pastor Receives Threat Edifice

is Given by Modernist

BY PHILIP KINSLEY
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

DAYTON (Tenn.) July 12.—Dayton girded itself today for the war against evolution and liberalism which will begin in earnest with the resumption tomorrow morning of the so-called trial of John Thomas Scopes. The Sun seemed to stand still in the heavens as for Joshua of old and to burn with holy wrath against the invaders of this fair Eden of fundamentalism.

EVOLUTION ROW RENDS PASTORATE

Minister at Dayton Quits
as Congregation Protests
Modernist's Sermon

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

DAYTON (Tenn.) July 12.—Rev. Howard Galt Byrd withdrew from his pastorate of the Methodist Episcopal Church, North, here today, when a large part of his congregation protested against the Rev. Charles Francis Potter, modernist minister of New York, taking the church pulpit. Dr. Potter was to preach a sermon on evolution.

Mr. Byrd called off the three regular Sunday preaching services and announced to newspaper men at the parsonage:

"I have quit. I have not resigned. I have quit."

Dr. Byrd, who invited Dr. Potter to occupy his pulpit, is pointed to as the original inspiration for the filling of charges against John T. Scopes, whose trial on an alleged violation of the State law prohibiting teaching of evolution began here Friday.

Rector Says Bible Proof of Evolution

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

CHICAGO, July 12.—"Evolution a witness to God" is the title given a booklet issued by Rev. George Craig Stewart, D.D., L.H.D., a rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Evanston. Dr. Stewart is prominent nationally in the councils of his church and has been spoken of as a probable witness in the Scopes trial.

"I hold no static conception of the Bible as I hold no static conception of life," says Dr. Stewart.

"The Bible is itself a conspicuous evidence of the law of evolution. It was not created in a day, as the world was not created in a day. It has upon it the marks of the lower forms of man's primitive nature."

"Man is no less divine because he still carries with him a pineal gland and a vermiform appendix. The amazing thing about the Bible is its great, steady, pulsing, note of development."

"I am ashamed to have a monkey for my ancestor, but I would be ashamed to claim kinship with a man who would not give great gifts to obscure the truth."

INDIANS KILL PATRON SAINT

Strange Superstition Revealed by Investigation of Tribal Feud in Mexico

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

MEXICO CITY, July 13.—A strange tale of Indian superstition comes from Indian villages in the State of Oaxaca. The patron saint of the village of Nopalera was stolen from a church by enemies of the village and taken to mountains where it was tried at summary court and ordered executed by a firing squad.

Protection of the saint, which burning fifty-three private Indians gave the village of Nopalera prosperity was objected to by inhabitants of other Indian towns who charged Nopalera with getting rich through protection of the saint. The Zapotecas and Nopalera Indians of Nopalera and Mixteca Indians of Nopalera were taken to court. Zapotecas Indians of Nopalera charge that since 1912 the Mixteca Indians have been assaulting the village, stealing cattle. Nopalera is in the district of Puebla. The Zapotecas charge that in 1913 Mixteca Indians invaded a ranch known as Jacalpete, kidnaped two families consisting of eleven members, stealing fifty head of cattle. Investigation showed the Indians in the Mixteca region well armed with modern rifles.

Beaches and Parks Packed With Thousands Who
Flee From City

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, July 12.—Highways, parks and beaches in and around New York were filled with thousands of New Yorkers who sought relief from the heat which today is believed to have resulted in the death of three persons and necessitated first-aid treatment for scores of others.

With the temperature between 88 and 91 deg. from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. there was an exodus from the city which caused the highways in Westchester county, Long Island and New Jersey to be jammed with automobiles while police reported record crowds on the beaches, particularly at Coney Island.

PARKS FILLED
In the city thousands of others filled the parks and on the East Side, youngsters either took a dip in the pool or resorted to beach baths in the streets.

The three reported dead from the heat were Philip Vassell of Cedarhurst, Long Island, who while driving a car on the beach at Coney Island, who died on the steps leading to the beach; and Mrs. Catherine Walden, 75, who died on the beach at Coney Island, and Mrs. Catherine Walden, 75, who died on the beach at Coney Island.

At Coney Island and other beaches first aid had to be administered to scores of persons overcome by heat.

YEAR'S LARGEST CROWD
Police of the Coney Island station reported that today's crowd was the largest of the year, at least 750,000. From Manhattan Beach to Regatta were at least 300,000. It is estimated that the number of people on the beach today was the largest of the year.

TWO DEATHS REPORTED
AT CHICAGO BEACHES
CHICAGO, July 12.—Nearly a quarter million people crowded Chicago's beaches today to evade the blistering 93-deg. temperatures.

Two deaths were reported, both of them unidentified men, whose bodies were washed up on the beach at North Shore beaches.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION
FOLLOW WISCONSIN GALE
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
MILWAUKEE, July 12.—Mother Nature played queer pranks late Saturday near Green Bay, Sturgeon Bay and Sawyer by causing a storm of cyclonic intensity to descend upon a series of small islands suddenly and without warning.

One man, Frank Rehnard of Sawyer, was swept from the toll bridge between Sturgeon Bay and Sawyer into the bay and drowned. Another, Knut Christensen, also of Sawyer, is in a hospital seriously injured. Two other persons in a boat were unable to make shore before the storm struck and narrowly escaped with their lives. The up-state storm at first was thought to have taken heavy toll in the orchards in the peninsula but later it was learned they escaped most of the blow.

As nearly as could be determined the storm gathered on Green Bay and moved over the peninsula with hurricane speed. At Sturgeon Bay the high winds swept away a portion of the toll bridge between the city and Sawyer. It was a flimsy shelter-house on this bridge that Christensen and two other persons were taken down by the wind. The house was blown down, windows were broken and the power plant was put out of commission temporarily. Extra crews of men were put to work by the telephone and light companies to repair wires that had broken in many places. High-tension cables were down at several places and guards had to be placed about them to protect the lives of pedestrians.

CYCLONE CAUSES DAMAGE
AT NEWCASTLE, IND.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SOUTH BEND (Ind.) July 12.—A cyclone struck near Newcastle, a small town about ten miles west of here, late Saturday night, causing considerable property damage. Scores of dwellings, barns and out-houses were damaged and telephone and telegraph poles for half a mile were uprooted. Crops in the vicinity suffered great damage. Electric light and power wires which were torn down were repaired today by the temporary laying of special wires. No casualties were reported.

ISOLATE CANCER ORGANISM

British Medical Scientists Discover Germ Which Causes Scourge and Will Seek Cure

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

LONDON, July 12.—The British National Institute of Medical Research has isolated and isolated the organism which causes cancer. It is expected that this notable achievement, which comes as the result of four years' work will be followed by an exhaustive effort to use the new discovery in perfecting treatment for the dread disease which ranks as one of the great scourges of mankind.

The medical research council, of which the Institute of Medical Research is a branch, was created in 1926 and is supported by a government appropriation. It numbers among its members the leading physicians of British medical science. The work which promises such brilliant achievement has been carried out at Mount Vernon, Hampstead. The men who have been chiefly responsible for cancer research work are J. E. Barnard, secretary of the Royal Microscopical Society; Dr. W. E. Gye and Dr. Grussell.

CURE NOT CLAIMED
Preliminary reports say that while, of course, no claim to have found a cure is made yet, the new step is considered to represent the biggest stride yet made toward successful treatment of the cancer affliction, which has baffled medical science for centuries.

Many thousands of scientists who have been working at the cancer problem have entertained the theory that the disease was caused by a minute organism and the work of the Medical Institute indicates that the reason it has not been

MOB DRIVES OUT JAPANESE Isolate Whites Disarm Guards and Carry Off Yellow Workers Following Fistic Battle

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

TOLLEDO (Ore.) July 12.—Trouble which had been brewing here for several weeks over the employment of Japanese laborers in the mill of the Pacific Spruce Corporation came to an open issue today. After a short mass meeting in the streets a crowd of 250 persons marched on the mill quarters and after a brief fistic battle with white mill employees, rounded up the Japanese with their luggage and carried them out of the county in automobiles and trucks.

This action had been threatening ever since the operators of the lumber mill imported Japanese for certain work for which they alleged they had been unable to obtain white help.

MHI employees, stationed as a guard to defend the Japanese, it was said, drew guns and threatened the invaders to no avail. Sheriff James A. Back and Sheriff Thomas J. Walsh, but no local constabulary could be obtained.

This report was first published in Chicago in July, 1924, during the Democratic national convention in New York. Mrs. Harriman was an active McAdoo supporter, and spent considerable time on the platform of the convention over which Senator Walsh was presiding.

Senator Walsh at that time referred all inquiries "to the lady." Mrs. Harriman's comment was "interesting but not true."

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

A quarrel broke out and Sauter was charged with sending a bullet crashing into the head of his hard-working wife.

ply in the courthouse square. There has been some question over the propriety of discussing the case in the shadow of the courthouse, but the defense considered the bare walls down when Bryan saw fit to go there.

While the Methodist Church, North, was deserted as a result of this situation, all the other churches in town were crowded, and Bryan was holding forth in his Bible talk at the Methodist Church, South. This was the usual talk that he gives at Miami, Fla., and only by implication was the controversy here touched upon.

OSTRACIZE DAYTON PASTOR

Carpenter Preacher Branded Enemy of His People Because He Invited Potter to Speak

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

DAYTON (Tenn.) July 12.—In the shadow of the Tennessee hills where the air is surcharged with prejudice and bigotry and nothing to be heard but the mutterings of religious and legal jargon mingled in a new babble, there was today enacted an Ibsen drama "An Enemy of the People."

CHURCH IS CLOSED

The congregation left with angry mutterings, the sisters behind their heads adorned by the meeting bonnets. The brethren marveled at his stubbornness, as the Romanians marveled at the stubbornness of the early martyrs.

SISTERS WARN HIM

Last night Howard Byrd was visited by a committee of the sisters of the Methodist Church North. The sisters, following under their meeting bonnets, told the pastor plainly that if the high-faluting preacher from New York was permitted to speak in the church it would mean that the congregation would quit. There was only one alternative, Brother Byrd could quit.

COULD NOT ACCOGE

The male members of the congregation listened with him quietly. They told him plainly that the fact that he had received into his church this man Rappleyes, who boasted of having planned the test of the anti-evolution law, into the Methodist Church, North, after he had been driven from the Methodist Church, South, had started talk against him.

WIFE SITS AND WAITS

The pale little wife of the carpenter, left the little parsonage at noon and went off into the mountains to his other charge, the little school at Dayton. But there was a painful emptiness within the walls and an emptiness in the heart of the carpenter.

BAPTIST CLEVERLYMAN SCORES EVOLUTION

Declaring that the theory of evolution denies every solid doctrine of the Bible and that it is 10,000 times more harmful to school children than the teachings of all infidels, Dr. T. T. Shields, fundamentalist leader in the Baptist denomination, delivered an address last night in the Church of the Open Door against all modernistic beliefs and the opponents of the Bible.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Exploring a religious state of mind that excludes science and a scientific philosophy that denies belief in a Divine Creator, Curtis D. Wilbur, Secretary of the Navy, Sunday-school teacher and noted jurist, today delivered an address on "Evolution and the Bible," in which he contended that a reconciliatory relationship exists between the modern Darwinian theory and the Bible.

SPIRIT OF TEACHINGS

The principal bone of contention between extreme fundamentalists and evolutionists is the theory of the origin of life. As pointed out, adding a sharp note of criticism of fundamentalism, the Secretary pointed out that the theory of evolution without denying their religious beliefs or morals, providing they believe the doctrine is the past and present working plan of a Supreme Being, according to Secretary Wilbur's conception of the controversy.

POLITIC SPEECH

With the exception of criticizing extreme fundamentalists and evolutionists alike who become biased on details and loss sight of the greater phases of the problem, the speech was extremely plain and neither affirmed nor denied an acceptance of the evolutionary theory or a belief in the literal interpretation of the Bible.

EXPLAINS CAUSE OF EARTH SHOCK

Scientist Denies Globe Crust is Shrinking

Says Tremors Forestall Real Cataclysm

Blames Erosion, Sedimentation and Readjustment

BY FREDERICK G. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, July 12.—There are approximately 8000 earthquakes in the world every year. A few are severe enough to be felt; the others merely trace out their tremors on the delicate seismograph. These disturbances, according to the latest scientific opinion, are to be thankful for. They prove the adaptability of nature to abnormal phenomena, the ability to maintain an even balance. If, for instance, the Santa Barbara shock had not occurred, the shocks have been occurring in this region at more or less irregular intervals—their frequency and strain on the fault at that point would have become so great that it would have broken down under the resistance and the resulting cataclysm would have been one infinitely more disastrous than the one just passed. Likewise the Montana shock.

There has been much speculation as to whether the disturbances were related. The United States Coast and Geodetic Survey dismisses this question with finality. Dr. William Bowie, chief of the Division of Geodesy, answers it with an emphatic negative.

THEORY EXPLODED

Dr. Bowie exploded the theory that earthquakes are caused by a shrinking of the earth's crust due to the cooling of the interior. He says that this could not happen, and if it could it would not produce earthquakes. Also, he declares that it is a mistake to believe that the earth is cooling, as there is enough radio-active material to maintain a high temperature that is relatively constant. He ascribes earthquakes to three fundamental causes.

These causes are: first, erosion; second, sedimentation, due to erosion; and third, the readjustment of the earth's crust following the first two steps. This process has been going on through the geologic ages.

The earth's crust is about sixty miles thick. This crust, composed of soil and rock strata, rests on a layer of material that is more or less plastic. When the weight of the crust remains the same, the material appears to have the rigidity of adamant, but the slightest change in weight is sufficient to expand or contract, as the case may be.

Geologists estimate that during the various ice ages, the weight of the crust has been a total of 750,000 miles of rainfall on the earth. This rainfall, with the accompanying disturbance in the air, pushed the crust down. During the course of one year billions of tons of sediment are eroded from the surface of the world and carried toward the seas through the drainage systems of the continents. Mountain systems are formed in this manner. They are merely transported material that has come from a former range. Eventually they, too, will disappear, throwing their masses back where they came from, the Appalachians, for instance, once rose at a point east of the North American coast.

THIRD CAUSE

The third cause, the other two, after erosion and sedimentation have ceased, is the readjustment of the crust. This is the most important, increasing in weight, punches holes in the earth's crust, and descends to depths where there is great heat. After the influx from above has ceased, the material, heated to high temperature, begins to rise. This rise forces the crust up, a pressure due to the great pressure, and an earthquake follows.

But the geodetic survey declares that the earthquake is a blessing in disguise. In order, then, that the population may enjoy the blessing and escape the rather disturbing inconveniences, the survey has obtained from Congress the right to take steps to protect the people from its ravages.

It will establish seismograph stations throughout the length and breadth of the country. Each earthquake will be mapped and recorded. Faults will be mapped and prospective buildings will receive information about the ground they intend to build on.

With such data at hand, any prediction regarding the exact time be hazardous, nothing having been hitherto discovered or invented to make this possible.

With this service established, the United States is far behind the rest of the world when it comes to information regarding earthquakes. It will be better prepared to meet such contingencies as the Santa Barbara, the Montana and San Francisco episodes.

ARMY PLANES IN
HUNT FOR KNAPPSearch for Soldier Accused as Taxi SlayerFlyers Will Aid Police in Identifying SuspectCommander Eager to Bring Deserter to Justice

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, July 12.—Two army planes left Mitchell Field, Long Island, today for Pittsburgh to aid in the hunt for Philip Knapp, deserter and alleged slayer of a Pennsylvania taxi driver, whom it is said he killed for a thrill.

Major Hensley, the commander of Mitchell Field, whose co-operation with the civil authorities led to the charge of murder against Knapp, voluntarily dispatched the planes. By his selection of Lieut. Marion Elliott, his aide, as a pilot, he again advanced the determination to be previously voiced to lead his most effective energies to bring Knapp to justice.

AD IDENTIFICATION
Elliott and Sargent took with them a number of photographs and other material which will prove of value in identifying any suspect apprehended by the numerous police officers who are combing the northern part of the State for Knapp.

The flyers arrived at the Pittsburgh airport late this evening, and intend to make it their base of operations. It is planned they will remain there until Knapp is captured or it becomes apparent he is not in that region. The planes will be put to whatever use is expedient in the search, but their primary object will be to speed Elliott and Sargent, to both of whom Knapp is known, to wherever an arrest is made so that identification may be made as quickly as possible.

OFFERS MORE PLANES
Last week Maj. Hensley offered the services of his flying corps to Dist. Atty. Charles Weeks of Madison county, but the prosecuting official stated at that time there was no immediate use for them. He said if such a use eventuated he would avail himself of the offer.

The major reiterated today that as many planes in addition to those sent to Pittsburgh as could be utilized to the search will be placed at the disposal of the county authorities whenever they are wanted.

Wall Street Paragraphs

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, July 12.—The developments of last week as they unfolded from day to day, were an important in themselves and in the bearing they may have on the future at home and abroad, that the week may well be called one of the most important of the year, despite the fact that it is midsummer, when financial news usually is at its lowest ebb. The developments included a grain report which forecasts a bumper crop of wheat and moderately good crop of corn; a considerable stirring on the part of buyers with fall commitments in hand; an increased upward trend in prices for many commodities; further gains in our venerable stock market (interrupted by a decline at the end of the week); and finally, and probably more important than any of these, details of the announcement of the plan of Finance Minister Caillaux to completely rehabilitate the French financial system in connection with the plans of France to repay her war obligations to this country.

Such a budget of news is unusual for a single week in midsummer, when, naturally, the disposition is to postpone definite developments in favor of holidays. Generally speaking, the markets of last week were good. On four successive days in the early part of the week new high figures were established for the averages on the stock exchange. Favored corporate shares in such important lines as the automobile industry, rubber, public utilities and building lines now are at approximately their highest point of the year and in a great number of instances the maximum quotations of the week were the highest at which these shares have sold.

It is important and worthy of comment that neither the stock nor commodity markets appear excited or to any great degree under the influence of intensive speculation. The excess of the early part of the year seem to have been replaced by entirely calm and dispassionate markets in which the buyers meet the sellers on a wholly sane basis. Such markets are quite unusual for midsummer. It is a fact, however, that the lethargy which was evident a fortnight ago has entirely vanished and has been replaced by a more active confidence on the part of buyers which very likely will be evident in corporate reports six months or so hence.

PASSING IN REVIEW BEFORE THE CAMERA'S EYE

Allen Annexes Perpetual Cup at Huntington

By virtue of his victory over Harold Godshall in the open championship tennis tournament held at the Huntington Hotel Saturday, Bob Allen is the proud possessor of the Perpetual Trophy offered in the corner to the men's singles winner. The first set of the Godshall-Allen match was 1-4, 2-6, when Godshall defaulted to Allen because of a sprained leg received in the match.

The Allen-Godshall combination defeated Robinson and Rescher for the men's doubles title, 6-1, 6-2. In the mixed doubles Virginia Platt and Allen thumped Miss Rowie and Godshall, 6-3, 6-4.

PADDOCK IS BEATEN BY MURCHISON

Newark Runner Victor
Over Californian in 200-
Yard Dash at Colombes

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
COLOMBES (France) July 12.—The American sprinters, Loren Murchison of Newark, N. J., and Charlie Paddock of Los Angeles, finished first and second, respectively, in the 200-yard dash, the chief event of today's big holiday meet organized by the Club Stade Francals. Murchison's time was 26.8, flat, one second behind Paddock's world mark, and one-fifth of a second behind the French mark held by Andre Monclon.

Murchison, seeing Paddock stumbling at the tape, tried to catch him and both fell into a ditch at the side of the track. They suffered only a few bruises and scratches. A crowd of some 15,000 was thrilled by the neck-and-neck finish of the Americans. Murchison had a bare two-inches advantage over the Californian, who had been laid up for a month with influenza. Murchison and Paddock will run on the 14th inst. at the Paris suburban stadium, after which Murchison will go to England for the 100-yard and 220-yard events of the English championships the 14th inst. Paddock will go to Stockholm and Helsingfors to fill engagements.

OAKS AND TIGERS DIVIDE

Bengals Cop Opener in Twelfth Frame, But Lose Afternoon Game and Series

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—The Oaks won one and lost one game today at Oakland. Had they behaved themselves in the field in the morning, the really good pitching of Herb Prust would have given them a clean sweep for the day. But they booted that one away, so an even break was the best they could get. Vernon won the morning game 4 to 5 in twelve innings. The Oaks took the afternoon affair 12 to 5. The Oaks won the series five games out of seven.

Macbeths Win Father-and-Son Golf Tourney

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
DEL MONTE, July 12.—Norman Macbeth, several times amateur golf champion of Southern California and active head of the Wilshire Country Club of Los Angeles, and his son, Norman Macbeth, Jr., today led the field in the annual Del Monte, father-and-son tournament with splendidly played gross scores of 77 and 80, respectively. Their combined score of 157 led Roger Papham of San Francisco, and his son, L. A. Papham, by five strokes. On the other hand, the Laphams were not quite as severely handicapped as were the Macbeths and

LOOP-LEADERS ANNEX SERIES

Root Thirls Angels to 8-4-3
Victory in Opener

Seals Slug Out Early Lead to
Nab Final, 12 to 8

Eddie Mulligan Hits Home
With Bases Loaded

BY ROBERT E. RAY
After Charley Root had pitched them to an 8-to-3 victory in the opener, Marty Krug's Angels turned around and allowed the league-leading Seals to capture the twilight tussle, 12 to 8, which gave them the odd game of the series by a 4-to-2 margin. A crowd of more than 12,000 fans turned out to see the Cherubs and Seals divide the holiday bill.

The Angels clinched the first game early when they collected five runs off Bob Geary in the opening inning. However, the Seals were dangerous all the way and caused Root no little worry in turning in his thirteenth victory of the season.

In the afterpiece the Seals had run over all twelve of their runs before the Angels got on. Marty Griffin at all. The fans were given a thrill when the Krugmen scored Marty for six markers in the single and two more in the seventh, but big Jeff Pfeffer then came to Griffin's rescue and spoiled the local rooters' hopes of an Angel victory by holding the Seals' scoring to the rest of the way.

SEVEN-RUN LEAD
The Seals got off to a seven-run lead in the first two frames, making all their scores of Don Wright. Five bunched hits gave the Seals three scores in the opening frame, but Lady Luck added Beck Ellison's crew considerably in compiling the four runs that were counted in the second. Answering the frame by getting a single when his roller took a bad bound and leaped over Jimmy McAlley's head, Griffin hit to Seals for what should have been a double-play, but the Angel infielder let the ball get by him and the runners were safe. Valia walked, filling the sacks, and then Eddie Mulligan scored the whole works by hitting a homer over the left-field wall.

Mistakenly relieved Wright at the start of the third and held the Seals scoreless for two frames, but in the fifth and sixth the northers got to the southpaw for five more markers, the result of seven hard hits, including Frank Brower's homer into the right-field wall.

Seniors Thump Junior Squad in Polo Game

Playing under the difficulties which accompany a temperature of 104 degrees and a sandstorm thrown in for good measure, the senior team of the Hollywood Heights Polo and Hunt Club yesterday defeated the junior squad, 8-5, in an argument that was hot even though it was one-sided.

The line-up follows:
SENIORS: Frank Foster, John Faye, Earl Barker, Don Bann, L. A. Gilman, Stanley Halliday, Don Bann, Don Bann.

PAL MORAN HAS HOBBY OF SPOILING TITULAR TIMBER

Phil Salvador is gaining a name for spoiling plans of title aspirants.

When Tommy O'Brien was having stationary printed with his name embossed on the letter heads as "Lightweight Champion of the World," Sally stepped out and got his hand raised two weeks ago.

But Phil Moran — next opponent for Salvador at Vernon tomorrow night — has been spoiling good men for a dozen years.

Three great fighters who were never fought again. They are Johnny Shugart, Charley White and Benny Leonard.

Shugart, younger brother of the famous Joe, was knocked out by Phil Moran in the first round. Leonard, who was a champion, was knocked out by Phil Moran in the first round.

White, who was a champion, was knocked out by Phil Moran in the first round.

CANADIAN GIRL CAGERS APPEAR

Alberta Quintet to Take on Pasadena Club Girls

Stage Contest at L. A. A. C. Gymnasium Tonight

The Commercial Graduates Basketball Club of Edmonton, Alta., most famous girls' team ever organized and for the past three years holder of the Canadian, international and world championships, will be seen in action at the Los Angeles Athletic Club this evening. The opposing quintet will be that of the Pasadena Athletic and Country Club, all feminine stars of the game, and the contest should equal any ever seen in the West. The big gymnasium will be open to the public for this unusual event.

While these basketballs are of the gentler sex their game is not of the same type. They play strictly according to "Spalding's" rules for men, which are conducive to fast and scientific work. Evidencing that the Canadian ladies can hold their own against any outfit is the fact that they do not hesitate to tackle any man's team averaging up to 125 pounds and expressed a willingness to meet a male team here if a girls' quintet could not be secured. The average weight of these champions from the north country is 125 pounds. In the Pasadena quintet they will face a highly representative organization.

Since first winning the Canadian title in 1922, the Edmonton team has met the best in the Eastern and Central United States without losing in a single instance and achieved the remarkable record of forty-two consecutive victories over the strongest competitors that could be lined up against it. The international congress at Paris last year recognized the team's right to the world title, which it will hold until the Women's Olympic Games at Brussels in 1926. Already it has been selected to represent Canada in those games.

CHILD STRANGLES TO DEATH ON GREEN BEAN STRINGS AS TERRIFIED MOTHER LOOKS ON

Mrs. Carl Norman was preparing some string-beans for mid-day dinner yesterday at her home, 5515 1/2 Edna street, while her son, Willard, 7 years of age, looked on. The child grasped up a handful of the strings which had been removed from the beans and thrusting them into his mouth ran from the house. Mrs. Norman at first thought it was a harmless childish prank, but she followed and found the little boy strangling. The strangle, it is said, had gone into the windpipe because of the boy's breaking while running. Death soon resulted.

The body is at the morgue of F. A. Utter & Son, Alhambra.

EL DORADO SOUGHT IN INFERNO

Faith in Wandering Piute's Tale of Treasure Sends Nevada Prospector, Fired by Glowing Stories of Mine, Into Death Valley in Quest of Gold

Faith in a wandering Piute Indian's story told fifty years ago to his father has started Paul M. Adams, former Nevada State legislator, army officer and mining engineer, into the blazing inferno of Death Valley on a quest for gold. The barren wastes from the unrelenting Chocoma Mountains that rim the Coachella Valley to the west and north to Death Valley will be explored by Adams, who began his prospecting in a "river" several weeks ago after calling on his former college chum, Brainerd B. Smith, receiver of the United States Land Office in Los Angeles. Last week Adams wrote Receiver Smith that he had arrived at Mesquite Lake and was prospecting for the desert exploration that he had undertaken until he has "exhausted every potential region for prospecting."

Back in 1848 Adams Smith and a third man owned the mining site of Mesquite Lake, the region made famous as the Owl claims site. Adams Smith was a prospector, a geologist, and a companion, met Adams, more recently a student at the Nevada School of Mines, one freezing spring morning in a boom mining camp near what is now known as Eastgate. Subsequent events which led to the trio making a stake out of a mining claim and sales of lots to settlers at Eastgate, but which are another story, never lessened the enthusiasm of Adams for conducting a search for the "Piute Mine."

REAR GLOWING TALES From his earliest memory Adams had heard his father, who was a wealthy Nevada stock raiser until the disastrous winter of 1893 wiped out his herds, recount glowing stories of an Indian mine to the south of Death Valley, brought to him by a friendly Piute tribesman who visited him frequently on peace missions to the coast.

Quartz, impregnated with large blobs of soft gold that glittered dully, was evidence furnished Mr. Adams' father by the visiting Indian. These samples have always served to whet the son's appetite for discovery and adventure in the desert region behind the Coast region. Though his father first heard of the rich deposit in 1875, neither Adams nor the parent followed the clues furnished them.

"Am going to strike it rich and won't come back 'till I do," was the laconic expression from the prospector Receiver Smith a few days ago.

QUIZ OPENED IN AIR CRASH

Clover Field Officers Believe Victims of Plunge at El Segundo Were Making Forced Landing

Two official investigations were started yesterday to determine the cause of the death of Lieut. Neil V. McClellan and Lieut. Hugh R. Denny, Reserve Officers Corps flyers, who were killed last Saturday afternoon when their plane crashed to the ground near El Segundo. Lieut. McClellan was the son of R. F. McClellan, chairman of the Los Angeles Board of Supervisors.

Coroner Nance is conducting a personal inquiry to learn if the blame can be fixed on any one other than the aviators themselves. If not, no inquest will be held. He will announce the result of his findings.

NO NEW THEORY Gen. Charles T. Mencher, commanding general of the Ninth Army Corps Area with headquarters at Fort Belvoir, was informed yesterday of the accident and will appoint an army board of investigation today.

The board will probably be composed of local and San Diego officers, and will meet today or tomorrow, according to Clover Field officers.

No new theory as to the cause of the accident was advanced by Lieut. Denny yesterday. They had interviewed none of the eyewitnesses, and still believe that the plane was forced to make a forced landing when the plane crashed.

OFFER PLANE ESCORT While relatives were recovering from the shock of the sudden disaster, the Clover Field air squadron officers, the Naville American Legion post of which both men were members, and officers at Port Huen, Arthur yesterday made offers to conduct a military funeral. DEATH ENDS LOVE LABOR OF PIONEER

Mrs. Emma G. De Garmo, Long Known for Charitable Deeds, Succumbs

Mrs. Emma Gyger De Garmo, charter member of the Friday Morning Club, known and loved for her charitable work in this city for many years, died last Saturday in her home at 1725 Westmoreland boulevard after a brief illness. Funeral services will be conducted today at 2 p.m. at the undertaking parlors of George Fitch.

Mrs. De Garmo, wife of Henry De Garmo, who was formerly identified with the building industry and interested in horticultural development here, was 72 years of age and had lived in Los Angeles more than forty years. Until her recent illness she retained active connection with the Friday Morning Club, and continued her philanthropic activities in many parts of the city.

Born in Cleveland in 1852, she spent her early childhood in that city and in Plattsmouth, Neb. On March 31, 1871, she was married to Henry De Garmo and the same year came west with her husband to San Francisco over the newly constructed Union Pacific Railroad. Later they journeyed by boat to Portland, thence to Salem and finally to Seattle, then a city of only 2000 inhabitants.

In 1874 Mr. and Mrs. De Garmo moved to San Bernardino, and ten years later came to Los Angeles to establish their permanent home here.

Mrs. De Garmo leaves her husband and two sons, Ellwood De Garmo, president of the Warren Oil Company, and G. C. De Garmo, attorney, both of Los Angeles.

RECORD SET IN TAX RECEIPTS

Increase Near Two Million, Goodcell Reports

Reductions in Rates Fail to Check Growth

Collector Expects District Will Lead Nation

Net taxable income reported by citizens of Southern California registered a tremendous increase for the fiscal year ended June 30, last, and receipts, despite sweeping reductions in rates, showed an increase of nearly $2,000,000, according to the annual report issued last week by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell.

Southern California, according to Collector Goodcell, is the only district in the United States with the possible exception of Florida that will show an increase in income collections for the 1925 fiscal year over the same period in 1924.

Income-tax receipts of all the States as a whole have shown a consistent decrease since 1920, whereas Southern California has steadily increased with the twelve months just ended topping the list with $46,036,814.

PRECEDING YEARS The figures for preceding years follow: 1920, $36,106,812; 1921, $40,644,175; 1922, $36,442,715; 1923, $39,719,719; and 1924, $44,144,781.

Reductions in normal tax rates instituted at the beginning of the last fiscal year were 50 per cent on personal income, with an additional deduction of 25 per cent for earned income, and other decreases were in surtax rates and increases in exemptions.

TOTAL COLLECTIONS Despite the lowering of toll rates, total collections for 1925 were $10,920,202, the normal peak for the nation when full war tax rates were in effect.

At the close of the fiscal year this district faced an income-tax revenue loss of more than $11,000,000, according to Collector Goodcell. Instead, receipts not only offset the $12,000,000 anticipated decline, but registered an actual gain of $1,920,202.

"The truth of the matter is that last year was a record-breaker in Southern California in point of income tax," Collector Goodcell said, "and undoubtedly Southern California will lead the world in increased income tax collections for 1925 as compared to 1924."

Lone Sea Rover Drops Hook in Los Angeles Harbor

Capt. Tom Drake and His Schooner Pilgrim

Solitary sailor, who claims direct descent from Sir Francis Drake, the illustrious freebooter of Plymouth Hoe, will attempt to Round Cape Horn in a small schooner of his own construction.

MARINER DARES HORN SEAS

Single-Hander Essays Unparalleled Feat in Attempt to Round Continent's Outpost in Cockslesh

Capt. Tom Drake, who is going to attempt the unparalleled feat of rounding Cape Horn alone in a small boat, arrived at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday in his thirty-five-foot cockleshell, the schooner Pilgrim. "The Lone Sea Rover," as he styles himself, claims direct ancestry with the illustrious freebooter of Plymouth Hoe, and has already passed through a lifetime of salt-water adventures that would make the stories of "Captain Jack," "Blindfolded Sailor," "The Ancient Mariner" and all those old fellows read like the minutes of a sewing society.

"I never was a pirate—yet," he says, "but I guess I've been through all the rest of it."

Realize that when you learn that the Pilgrim is the third such craft he has built since 1918. Of the first two the Sir Francis I was wrecked on the Cuban Coast in a West Indian hurricane and the second, the Sir Francis II, was driven ashore on the Mexican west coast in 1919. Both times Capt. Drake escaped death in lucky fashion.

LOS ANGELES GARGO "The night the nor'wester blew the back of the schooner I had $10,000 in curio aboard. The next morning I had a jug of water crocked on the Cuban Coast in a West Indian hurricane and the second, the Sir Francis II, was driven ashore on the Mexican west coast in 1919. Both times Capt. Drake escaped death in lucky fashion."

Capt. Drake tells yarns, with the ring of truth, about having ridden the back of a whale, about having drifted for twenty days in an open boat and about having been blown overboard and then washed back again by a heavy sea. This last occurred, he says, while he was en route here from Seattle in the Pilgrim.

He has been going to sea for forty-six years on square-riggers, schooners and steamers and thinks that the success of his present adventure will be sort of a climax to his career. He wanted to do something to top the performance of Capt. Joshua Bloem, who sailed around the world in a dug-out canoe.

WILL OUTDO EASY "Bloem took the easy way," he explains. "He sailed down the coast of South America and then he sailed around Cape Horn by working through the Straits of Magellan."

"So I say to myself, 'Why don't I do the hard way?'" he says, "and I say that I will work my way around the world in the toughest places. So here I am, me and the boat, on our way anyhow."

Capt. Drake is a member of the Queen City Yacht Club of Seattle and says his yacht effort will be to carry the red-and-white burgee around the world.

MEETING ON BOULEVARD PLAN TODAY

Sixteenth-Street Name Change to Be Discussed at Joint Session

To consider the question of changing to Venice Boulevard, the name of Sixteenth street from Main street to the western city limit, the City Planning and Street Opening and Widening committees will hold a joint meeting at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Council chamber at the City Hall.

This change of name originally was petitioned for from Alameda street west, but the Council committee recommended that the change of name be authorized now from Arlington street west so as to expedite the opening of the street to connect with the existing Venice Boulevard to the ocean.

Before adopting the ordinance changing the name from Arlington street west, the committee decided to hold a public hearing to ascertain public sentiment toward the change of name from Main street west, leaving the name Sixteenth street as designating the street from the city limit to the Council Hall is chairman of the City Planning committee and Councilman Barnes is chairman of the Street Opening and Widening committee.

DRY SHAKE-UP EXPECTED

Director Anderson May Be Offered Position of Assistant to Gen. Andrews

An important change in Federal prohibition enforcement chiefs in this district is expected to follow a conference in Washington between W. W. Anderson, director for the southwestern district; E. C. Yel-lowey, general prohibition head, and Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, chief of the National Enforcement Bureau, which will take place within a few days.

Anderson left Los Angeles yesterday for New York City, where he will testify in the United States District Court from there he will go to Washington to meet Yel-lowey and Andrews.

MAY BECOME ASSISTANT It is believed that Anderson will be offered the post of assistant to Gen. Andrews, with headquarters in Washington, thus relinquishing the Los Angeles post to some other.

In case Anderson moves in as Andrews' assistant, the new appointment will be announced within a few weeks, it is believed.

This district soon will be put under an administrator, who will receive a salary of $7500 a year. The district, which includes Southern California, Arizona and Hawaii, may be reappointed.

The Lancer

Harry Carr

PENETRATING or prophetic vision is not needed to see the connection between the trouble in China and Japan's anomalous naval program.

The most dangerous crisis that has arisen during my lifetime is rumbling along in our direction. No one can even guess what is going to happen. Not even the Chinese themselves.

THE OLD DIPLOMAT Those who have never taken the trouble to inform themselves say this part has "come out of a clear sky."

Nothing could be further from the truth. It has been boiling for a long time.

Many years ago, when I was a little boy reporter, a wise old Chinese diplomat said to me: "In our country, we despise soldiers. We regard them as degraded characters. But if you force us to abandon our idealism, we can fight. Don't force us to that extremity. If you do—then look out for yourselves."

AMERICA'S RECORD

America has treated China with enlightened unselfishness. But the same cannot be said for Europe. It is the crux of European hate that has finally forced the worm to turn.

But, alas, if the worst comes, we will very likely be forced to bear the brunt.

KHAWA WILD HORSES

Wild horses are being slaughtered in Eastern Washington; and the carcasses fed to pigs.

It seems a tame ending for the descendants of the proud Barb stallions ridden by the armored knights of Cortes.

According to horse experts, that is what the lowly carcass of the plains really is. Fugate Arab blood runs in his veins; probably that accounts for his unusual endurance, and his fighting qualities.

The Indians never saw horses until the Spanish knights brought them over across the seas, for the conquest of Mexico.

The native heard guns for the first time when they saw horses for the first time. They conceived the two. They at first believed that the horses tread the bullets that slew them.

H. M. Warner to Make New York His Future Home

To give closer attention to the Warner Brothers' theatrical and distributing interests in the East, Harry M. Warner will remove his home to New York, leaving Tuesday, he announced yesterday.

For the past year he has been commuting between his home here and his business at the New York office.

Mr. Warner predicted yesterday that within two years Warner Brothers will have a theater in every principal city and key spot where their pictures are not now booked, and pointed to the purchase of a theater in Chicago, the Orpheum, and the booking of the entire product by the Picoally in New York, addition to the purchase of a theater in Portland, Ore., and the building of one in Hollywood, as steps in carrying this out.

THE GIRL DIRECTOR

Not many folks know that Mr. Bryan's daughter is one of the few women who ever directed a motion picture. She made a picture with her own money; and it was pretty good.

One day she and I watched Griffith making a picture. "Well," she said at last, "he may be a better director than I am; but I have got it on him in one regard. He never stopped the camera and adjourned to nurse a baby, as I have."

GOODWILL INDUSTRIES WILL OPEN NEW SHOP

The Goodwill Industries, 843 North Main street, will open a new department the latter part of the week—an antique shop. Its stock consists of old musical instruments, old prints, oriental objects of art, old firearms and some unusual bits of furniture. The goods were received from friendly donors, classed as junk, and has been picked over by an expert who sifted out the less valuable material.

PIGGLY WIGGLY SERVES ON KHJ

Pleasant Program Given by Entertainers

Hawaiian String Quartet Brings Praise

Entire Evening One of Delight to Hearers

BY CLAUDE MELLONINO
A few years ago a small group of men seeking a channel through which they could serve their community decided that an organization dealing with the necessities of life would prove the most effective medium. With this selection came the decision that their new venture would be operated to give service to the greatest number with a maximum economy. From that idea, which embraced three branches, has grown an organization known over the entire country as the Piggly Wiggly Company totaling fifty-two stores in Southern California.

This accomplishment within the brief span of three years would not have been possible without the support of the public. And to show their appreciation for the confidence upon which this structure was erected, the Piggly Wiggly Stores came to KHJ last night with an excellent program of music, arranged by Nora Childers.

THESE PRESENT
The evening presented Edward Novis, baritone; the Piggly Wiggly Trio; the "Help Yourself" Hawaiian String Quartet; Fred Mitchell as "Uncle Josh," and Carl Buratt, cornet.

The invitation, which seemed to emanate from the name of the "Help Yourself" Hawaiian String Quartet, was eagerly accepted by the listeners after these four young men revealed their talents in the musical literature of the Hawaiian Islands.

The Piggly Wiggly Girls, popular exponents of semiclassic selections, contributed their customary delightful share of the evening's success. It is a combination of three versatile young ladies, whose attitude toward their work is clearly reflected in the excellence of their ensemble.

PIGGLY WIGGLY GIRLS
We cannot resist the temptation to note in passing that no more faithful performers come to our studio than the Piggly Wiggly Girls. For more than one year they have entertained hundreds of listeners and whenever it was necessary to fill the breach in a program they have immediately responded. Personally, we believe they have been one of the most valued commodities in the Piggly Wiggly stores.

Carl Buratt and Edward Novis are names too well known to Radio-land to require any supplements to the tributes paid them in this column and by admiring auditors.

UNCLE JOSH TALKS
Fred Mitchell in the role of "Uncle Josh," provided the humor, a task for which he is well fitted, and which he performed with the originality and quaint style essentially a part of the rural character.

Further interest was added to the program in the contest in which an opportunity was given to

HUNT WELL KNOWN
It is known from coast to coast in the chemical circles and in the Los Angeles and Hollywood showmen. Mrs. Hunt is active in charitable work and leading women's organizations.
The suit seeking $100,000 damages from Hunt was filed for Mrs. Hunt by Attorney John A. McChadden on January 12, last in the name of an unnamed complaint to force an action. The offenses alleged were asserted in the bill have been committed between March 19 and 23, 1934. Hunt was charged with going to her home at McChadden Place, for the purpose of seducing and seducing Mrs. Leary and diverting her attention from her duties as an undesirable woman, to fight him off and himself. Two of these vi-were made, according to the report.

At the time, Mrs. Lawson is said to have declared that she was afraid to tell her husband for fear that a shooting affray would result between him and Hunt. After the second asserted attempt on her life, she confided in her husband and it was declared, and in order to vindicate herself, she brought suit.

MYSTERY WITNESS

That the existing police charges against Mrs. Lawson is only one of several accusations to be made against her at the District Attorney's office today, was intimated by Hunt last night. He would have produced a mystery witness, a woman who is declared to have overheard a conversation between

Lawson and an adviser reading him.

Survive War With Neptune

Losers to Fate

HARD-LUCK YACHT ANCHORS

Windward, King's Cup Winner, Battles Hurricanes On Fateful Cruise From West Indies

Delayed in her trip from the West Indies by hurricanes and unusual hard luck, the two-masted schooner-yacht Windward arrived yesterday at Los Angeles Harbor. This famous craft, which won the King's Cup at Cowes, Eng., in 1911, the only American-built yacht to win that honor, was bought by Harry C. Fisher of Los Angeles to enter in the race from San Francisco to Tahiti, but was prevented by fate from taking part in that contest, which recently closed.

The Windward left the West Indies May 2. While crossing the Great Bahamas reef she was struck by a hurricane and lost all of her sails except the mainmast. She made port at Miami, and was re-rigged and equipped with a Diesel engine and resumed her voyage.

Another of the typical West Indian hurricanes was encountered by the famous yacht and she was forced to put in at Georgetown, British West Indies. After considerable delay, she finally reached Cristobal, Canal Zone, on May 16, and Balboa on May 24. Eighteen hours out of Balboa, a northwesterly hit her and she suffered breakage of her tall shaft. Forced to turn back, she required five days to cover the distance made in eight hours.

She left Balboa again on June 9, reaching Balboa Cruz on June 16, and Masatlan, she left June 30. A northwest gale and heavy seas were encountered virtually the entire distance between Masatlan and Los Angeles Harbor. She lost her life boats, but they were recovered later. Her rigging was torn loose, although her sails remained intact.

The Windward's safe arrival here was due to the skillful handling of the famous yacht by Capt. A. E. Sharpley. She is a 100-foot steel schooner and carries a crew of eleven. She was built in 1907 at City Island, N. Y.

Mulholland Moving Mass of Preliminary Labor

Crews Established in Field; Road Being Built

That the task of completing, detailed surveys and clearing away a great mass of preliminary work in connection with the giant Colorado River aqueduct is being pushed forward actively by Chief Engineer Mulholland of the Municipal Water Bureau has been revealed in a report just issued relative to the progress of this project.

With six survey parties in the field between Los Angeles and the White Water River and a large construction crew at work building a forty-mile road into the mountains in the vicinity of Shaver's Well, the Water Bureau has just opened divisional headquarters in the town of Beaumont, it was stated in the report.

The great mass of survey work incident to the San Geronimo tunnel section of the giant water-carrier is to be handled in the Beaumont divisional headquarters, it was stated by Chief Engineer William Mulholland of the Water Bureau.

RAYLEY IN CHARGE

Three parties of surveyors will work out of Beaumont headquarters under the direction of E. A. Rayley, assistant Water Bureau engineer and the man who has been designated by Mulholland to actively handle all survey work in connection with the Colorado River water project. In addition to the survey parties a group of engineers and draftsmen have already been set to work in Beaumont. This group will be increased in number within a few weeks, according to Mr. Rayley.

The three surveying parties stationed at Beaumont are covering the territory between White Water River and the San Geronimo tunnel section. The latter is generally referred to as the San Geronimo tunnel section. The latter is generally referred to as the San Geronimo tunnel section.

In addition to the work centering around the fourth survey party is now collecting topographical data in the vicinity of the Colorado River. The latter is generally referred to as the San Geronimo tunnel section.

Under the direction of Engineer Rayley a construction crew this week began work of building a road into the mountains. The latter is generally referred to as the San Geronimo tunnel section.

With the coming of the hot weather all survey parties have been temporarily removed from the desert country to California. The latter is generally referred to as the San Geronimo tunnel section.

The accident occurred at the Green house, 4193 Whittier Boulevard, where the two boys spent the afternoon together in play.

Young Filson was not seriously injured, according to Dr. H. B. Brinkley, who gave emergency treatment at the Kasper Cohn Hospital.

He was removed to the General Hospital, where a probe for the bullet was made last night. His parents were notified at the family residence, 1818 Harvard Boulevard.

TRUCK DRIVER, INSPIRED
BY AVIATION AND FLASK,
LANDS SAFELY AT JAIL

He was to have delivered the supplies to an aviator at Lake Arrowhead. He is in jail at Pomona.

At O'Connor drove over the highway he continued to nip at the bottle, it appears, and to step on the gas, it is certain.

He soon noticed that people got out of his way. "The aviator will have these supplies in a jiffy," he told himself. "It must be fine to be an aviator."

Bankers Make High Scores in Pistol Match

High scores again marked the pistol matches on the Los Angeles police rifle range in Elysian Park yesterday morning when teams contested from the Central Office and the Los Angeles branches of the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank. The city branches won both the five-man and three-man matches.

The highest individual scores were 30 by George J. Rush, superintendent of the Los Angeles branches, and 27 by Lieut. Col. Thomas F. Cooke, United States Reserves, assistant cashier, central office.

The competition was in charge of Col. Cooke, with E. L. Uhlig as captain of the central office and Capt. H. C. Underwood, a World War veteran, and manager of the Pico and Valencia branches team.

The Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank is holding these pistol matches each month and the scores made by the bankers are regarded by the Los Angeles police as a splendid object lesson to would-be bank hold-up men.

FEAR ANGELENO
MET FOUL PLAY

Gilbert Lee Rogers Believed Victim of Robbers

Papers Found in San Diego
Increase Mystery

Parents Receive No Message
Since July Fourth

Fears are entertained that an evil fate may have overtaken Gilbert Lee Rogers, son of a substantial family, who disappeared on the 3rd inst. He left the family home, 2237 West Fifteenth street, for Long Beach to spend the Fourth. Papers in his wallet have turned up in an obscure rooming house in San Diego. Rogers himself was not at the place.

No trace has been found of Rogers' automobile, a ring set with three diamonds, a diamond watch, a gold and engraved belt buckle and an elaborately monogrammed gold watch that he had on his person. Usually he carried a considerable sum of money with him, but he is believed to have had not more than $10 when he left home.

He was said to be of good habits. He had been engaged with his father, C. E. Rogers, in the construction of Rogers & Lamb, automobile financing, Avenue 46 and Pasadena avenue, for several years.

PLANNED HOLIDAY

On the day before the Fourth, according to his mother, he planned to spend the holiday at Long Beach and to return home on the day after the Fourth. He kissed her good-bye and left in ordinary manner when he did not return.

On Thursday last a letter addressed to him arrived at the Rogers residence. It was from a San Diego rooming-house and said that his Richfield gasoline credit book, Masonic Lodge receipts, business cards and other personal papers were found in a room there and asked what disposition should be made of them.

The young man's father went to San Diego at once and learned that no one answering his son's description had been there. The papers were ones which Rogers carried in his wallet, but the father was not found. The elder Rogers informed San Diego detectives and they examined one of the rooming houses in which the papers were said to have been found.

SEARCH UNDERTAKEN

The elder Rogers and Dick E. Rogers, son-in-law, yesterday went to San Diego again, leaving their reported disappearance to Deputy Sheriff Davidson here and Capt. Bright of the homicide squad began a search for traces in Los Angeles. Long Beach and nearby places.

It is feared that the young man was set upon, robbed of valuables and automobile and possibly fearfully dealt with. His mother said he went to San Diego three or four times a year and to the beach towns only occasionally. Search for him was made by the father in hospitals along the border and in Los Angeles, but without avail.

Rogers was 39 years of age, 5 feet tall, weighed 180 pounds, blue eyes, light hair, sandy complexion, smooth face, walked with a slight limp due to a three-inch extension shoe on left foot, was marked by a birthmark on left cheek, wore a brown suit, straw hat and oxford. His car was an Essex coupe, license 443-442, engine 11657.

Investigation by San Diego police, according to advices from there last night, revealed that some of Rogers' effects had been discovered in an unused storeroom of a small hotel, although the hotel had no record of the missing man's having been a guest there. The management was unable to explain how his belongings came to be there.

Young appealed for a court review of the proceedings on the grounds that the action taken by the medical board was not within its jurisdiction. In a lengthy opinion on the case, Judge Shaw upheld the order of the medical board and refused to set aside the action of the board.

Charge Found Dead After Quarrel Over Arrest

An altercation growing out of a narcotics case about a week ago cost the life of Rodolfo Rodriguez, a Mexican, Saturday night at Pacoima, about three miles east of San Fernando, the police said.

The Van Nuys police arrested Emanuel Ballester, another Mexican, who was charged with the murder. Police records show that Rodriguez was arrested about two weeks ago, charged with violation of the State Police Act.

Ballester, the police say, declared that Rodriguez cornered him in a pool hall in Pacoima and accused him of causing the arrest. They quarreled, and later Rodriguez was found dead about a block from the pool hall with a bullet hole through his head. The police say an open knife was found by the side of the dead man.
